In the Day 4 PDP the speaker discussed about the elements and frame work of the organizational behavior as The four elements of organizational behavior are people, structure, technology, and the external environment. By understanding how these elements interact with one another, improvements can be made. Three main theoretical frameworks of organizational behaviour include the cognitive, behaviouristic and social learning frameworks. These form the basis of an organizational behaviour model. The cognitive approach is based on the expectancy, demand and incentive concepts. Edward Tolman has developed this approach.

In the Day 5 PDP the speaker discussed about the Personal values represent an important force in organizational behavior for several reasons. In fact, at least three purposes are served by the existence of personal values in organizations: (1) values serve as standards of behavior for determining a correct course of action; (2) values serve as guidelines for decision-making and conflict resolution; and (3) values serve as an influence on employee motivation. Let us consider each of these functions.

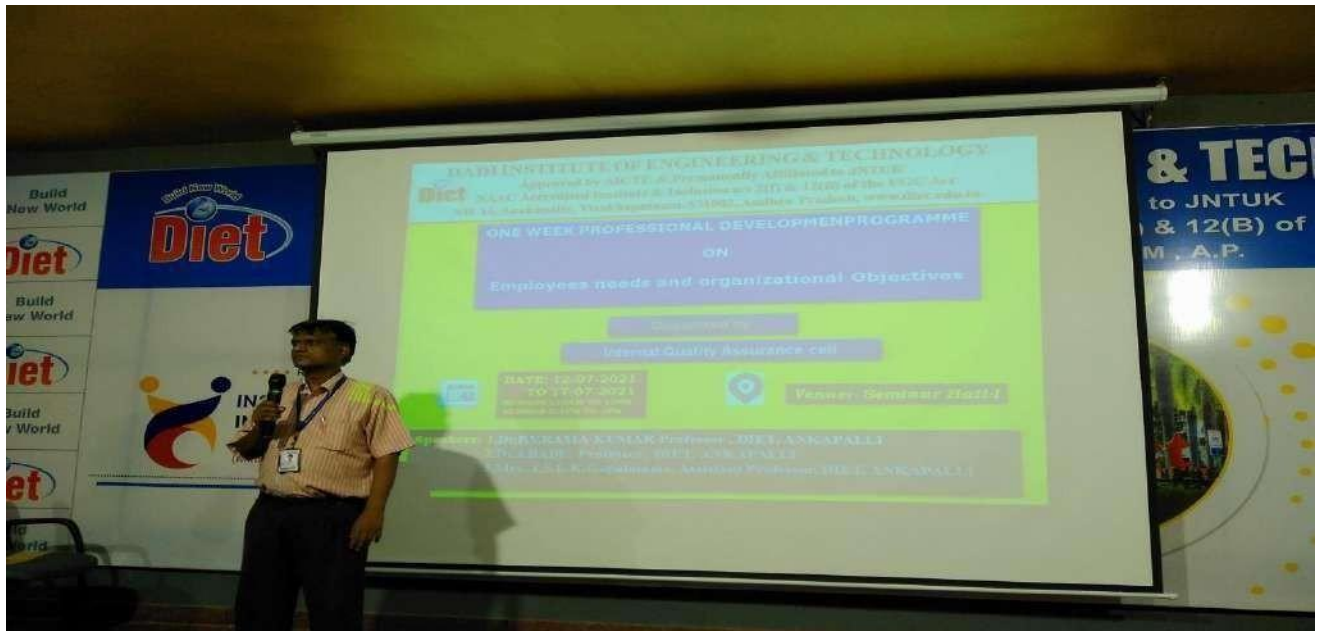

In the Day 6 PDP the speaker discussed about Work values are the work-related qualities, principles and standards that really matter to you. Knowing your work values can help you plan a career, look for opportunities in your current work, or make a career change and explained about the following job oriented values.

With an objective to strengthen the technical skills to non teaching staff and also to promote the participating and organizing skills in the technical staff, the “A Professional Development program on Advanced surveying” has been organized.

Technical training class to non teaching staff

Schedule of Programme:

Day.no	Date	Topic	Resources Person
Day-1	11/02/2021	Introduction Programs and its importance	Mr. D.V.Shanmukesh
Day-2	12/02/2021	Advanced methods in chain Surveying	Mr.K.Appalanaidu
Day-3	13/02/2021	Plan table surveying and objectives	Mrs.K.Manoharini
Day-4	15/02/2021	Auto level surveying	Mrs.M.Kedhareswari
Day-5	16/02/2021	Fly levelling in road cross sections	Mrs.B.Ramya
Day-6	17/02/2021	Total station Surveying	Mr.O.Suresh

Day-1 -11/02/21

Surveying is a very crucial branch of civil engineering. Depending on the requirement, various types of surveying has been evolved. To understand surveying fully one must know details of these surveying types. Surveying is the technique of determining the relative position of different features on, above or beneath the surface of the earth by means of direct or indirect measurement sand finally representing them on a sheet of paper known as plan or map.

Day-2-12/02/21

Types of Surveying Chain Surveying

- Area to be surveyed is divided in to a number of triangles
- The length of the sides are measured and the interior details recorded
- Whole are then plotted on a drawing sheet to a suitable scale to produce

Day-3-13/02/2021

The Map Plane Table Surveying

- The observations and plotting are done simultaneously
- An art paper or sheet is fixed on a calibrated plane table
- The field observations are taken and recorded side by side on the paper and eventually the map is prepared.

Demonstration about Plane Table Surveying Equipment

Day-4 – 15/02/2021

Ordinary Leveling

- The elevations of different points on the earth surface are determined.
- Provides all the elevation data needed for construction activities

Demonstration about Auto Leveling Equipment

Day-5 -16/2/2021

Fly Leveling:

- The Elevations Of Different Points On The Earth Surface Are Determined.
- Number Of Changing Points Should Be More In Fly Leveling Are Usefull With Interval Distances Measured
- This Methods Are More Suitable In Infrastructures Like Highways Railways UGD“S
- Provides All The Elevation Data Needed For Construction Activities

Day-6 -17/02/2021

Total station:

To set up a total station, we have to start by placing the tripod at the exact point from where you want to work. And after that we have to adjust it, so the tip is somewhat level. From there you can mount the total station onto the tripod while using the plumb-bob to center it over the mark. Once the instrument has been set up, you can perform the following steps to stake out specific points:

- Set the instrument to a known point.
- Enter the coordinates of the point.
- Turn the total station until the horizontal circle reads zero.
- Position there flector to where it lines up with point P.
- Measure the distance (which will be calculated and displayed automatically).

Demonstration about Total station Instrument

Be sure to read the manual that comes with your total station for more detailed information. A total station is an optical surveying instrument that uses electronics to calculate angles and distances. It combines the functions of a theodolite with that of a transit level and electronic distance meter (EDM). It also has an integrated microprocessor, electronic data collector, and storage system that allows measurements to be stored on the device (which can be uploaded to a computer for further processing).

Total stations measure distance by using a modulated infrared carrier signal, which is generated by a small solid-state emitter inside the instrument's optical path. This beam is reflected off a prism or an object that the user wants to survey, while the modulated pattern of the returning signal is read and interpreted by a computer inside the instrument.

The program was concluded with by Mr.P.L.Narayana (Assistant professor in civil department) with a special mention to Er.N.RAMU, HOD, Civil Department, Mr. M .R.V.S.G.Guptha Deputy HOD, Civil Department and all faculty members and non-teaching staff.

Linear Regression

$x \in R^D \rightarrow y \in R^K$ ($K=1$)

$\hat{y} = W^T x$

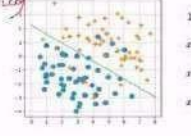

$J(W) = \frac{1}{2} \sum_{n=0}^N |y_n - \hat{y}_n|^2$

The dignitaries of the Inaugural Function included The dignitaries of the inaugural Function include Sri Dadi Ratnakar, Secretary and Correspondent, Dr.P.V.RAM KUMAR, Professor, DIET, Anakapalle, K.VIJAYKUMAR, Associate Professor, DIET, Anakapalle, Mr.P.V.MURALI, Professor, DIET, Anakapalle and Convenor also graced the occasion. HoD's of other departments, 40 faculty participants from various departments participated in the inaugural function.

On the Day 1 PDP the speaker discussed about the major goals of Organizational behavior like (1) To describe systematically how people behave under variety of conditions, (2) To understand why people behave as they do, (3) Predicting future employee behavior, and (4) Control at least partially and develop some human activity at work.

On the Day 2 PDP the speaker discussed about The study of organizational behaviour gives insight on how employees behave and perform in the workplace. It helps us develop an understanding of the aspects that can motivate employees, increase their performance, and help organizations establish a strong and trusting relationship with their employees.

On the Day 3 PDP the speaker discussed about the nature of Organizational Behavior and how it applies humanistic approach towards people working in the organization. It, deals with the thinking and feeling of human beings. O.B. is based on the belief that people have an innate desire to be independent, creative and productive, and also delivered about the scope of organizational behavior and It influences the attitudes of people, their working conditions and above all provides competition for resources and power. O.B. is the study of human behavior at work in organizations. Accordingly, the scope of O.B. includes the study of individuals, groups and organization/structure.

On the Day 4 PDP the speaker discussed about the elements and frame work of the organizational behavior as The four elements of organizational behavior are people, structure, technology, and the external environment. By understanding how these elements interact with one another, improvements can be made. Three main theoretical frameworks of organizational behaviour include the cognitive, behaviouristic and social learning frameworks. These form the basis of an organizational behaviour model. The cognitive approach is based on the expectancy, demand and incentive concepts. Edward Tolman has developed this approach.

On the Day 5 PDP the speaker discussed about Autocratic model and The custodial model, and tell about the Autocratic model as, is the model that depends upon strength, power and formal authority. In an autocratic organisation, the people (management/owners) who manage the tasks in an organisation have formal authority for controlling the employees who work under them. The custodial model is based around the concept of providing economic security for employees – through wages and other benefits – that will create employee loyalty and motivation. The custodial model mainly focuses on the financial reward aspects of being employed by the organisation.

On the Day 6 PDP the speaker discussed about The supportive model seeks to understand what motivates employees and focuses on those things to motivate and inspire. When employees are given opportunities to improve themselves, they often take personal initiative to perform better at their job. The collegial model is based around teamwork – everybody working as colleagues (hence the name of the model). Collegial refers to a highly co-operative set of people working together by dividing the labour among themselves for the sake of efficient working and to achieve organizational goals.

A Six Day Orientation Programme On Teaching Pedagogy

5th September, 2019 to 11th September, 2019

Organized by

Department of Computer Science & Engineering

The Department of CSE, DIET is going to organize A six day Orientation Programme on Teaching Pedagogy from 05/09/2019 to 11/09/2019 on the eve of Teacher's day celebrations. The Teacher's day is celebrated across India every year on the 5th of September on the occasion of birthday of former President, Teacher, Educator and scholar Dr. Sarvapalli Radhakrishnan. In his book titled, "Political Thinkers of Modern India", he signified the importance of teachers and education in a country like Democratic India which was still in its early years of development. According to him, there is a huge role of teachers in nation building and for that sake teachers should be respected more. Apart from being a thinker and teacher he was also a philosopher. He once wrote a book on Bhagawad Gita and there he defined a teacher as, "The one who emphasizes on presentation to converge different currents of thoughts to the same end".

Teachers can change lives with just right mix of Chalk and Challenges. On this auspicious occasion, Dadi Institute of Engineering & Technology wished all its faculty members a very Happy Teachers' Day and appreciated their selfless contribution in sharing knowledge as well as inculcating values to students. This included celebrations to honor them with "Academic Excellence Awards" for their special contributions in Teaching and best performance in NPTEL & Research and Library Utilization and many more.

The function was inaugurated with lamp lighting and garlanding of Dr Sarvepalli portrait by Chief Guest Sri K.Satyanarayana, I.P.S, Inspector General of Police, PTO, Amaravathi, Guest of Honour Ms E.P.S.Bhagya Lakshmi, District NSS Programme Officer, Visakhapatnam, Sri Dadi Ratnakar, Chairman of the Institute, Principal Prof. Dr.Ch. S. Naga Prasad and Dr.L.Prasanna Kumar, Convener of the event.

Chief Guest of Event Sri K.Satyanarayana, I.P.S addressed the gathering and specified that to survive in this competitive world Teacher blessing are required. Similar to making a stone to statue, we need teacher who prepare personalities with values. He said that DIET is known for imparting value education to the students. He also added that the significance of the function is to show respect to our Gurus who have liberated us from darkness and has shown the light to progress. They sacrifice their life for the upliftment of the students by imparting not only knowledge but also wisdom.

He urged the teachers not to stagnate the knowledge they possess but to spread it to the society and help the society to liberate. He motivated the young students with his words and advised them not to compare themselves with others and not to depend on others. He also asked them to be bold, consistent, and possess a strong will and passion to succeed in life. He interacted with students and faculty and inspired them with the glimpses from his life and has given several tips on how to crack Civil Services. He urged students to build self-confidence in order to achieve their ambitions.

Guest of Honour Ms.E.P.S.Bhagya Lakshmi emphasized the importance of parents and teachers in one's life. As Compared with Parents, teachers spend lesser time with the children. She stressed that "If the teacher is moulded properly then the society will also be moulded properly". She advised the students to pay their respect to their teachers. She insisted that Teachers should act as extension agents and should develop emotional relationship with students and contribute beyond their time in the campuses and help in shaping the future citizens. She informed every student to learn education with four Es(EEEE – Enjoy, Enlight, Employability, Empowerment)

She expressed her wish regarding the reformation of the current education system and felt that it should be student centric.

Sri Dadi Ratnakar, Chairman of Dadi Institute of Engineering & Technology, in his address conveyed that DIET is fortunate to have a right blend of teaching fraternity who with their untiring efforts are moulding the lives of the young techies. He said that it is customary at DIET to felicitate and encourage the faculty with cash awards and appreciation certificates every year. This year it is special to have an acquaintance of the visionary teacher whose birthday is celebrated as teachers' day as a guest and son of the soil and current bureaucrat who adores teachers as greatest inspiration as Chief Guest.

Dr Ch S Naga Prasad, Principal of DIET in his address referred Teachers as back bone of our society. He said that they spear head the changes to be brought in the society and appealed the teachers to be the game changers in student's lives. He stressed that Teacher knowledge should be applicable and he should be the activist and role model. Teacher enlighten the students future and mould them for attaining successful career.

Dr L.Prasanna Kumar, Convener of the event specified the importance of gathering which is to celebrate Teachers' Day as tribute to teachers who strive hard for making our Nation's future and expressed gratitude to management for their contributions to DIET family for enhancing the spirit of hard working nature and in turn achieving good results and excelling in teaching.

The Chief Guest, Sri K.Satyanarayana, IPS and Guest of honor, Ms.E.P.S. Bhagya Lakshmi were felicitated honoring their valuable and enormous services to society and teaching fraternity. Then the Chief Guest and Guest of honor distributed academic excellent awards for the DIET faculty members of DIET with 50 gms silver medals,merit Certificate and Cash prize.

The Profile of Chief Guest is presented by Mr K Nuka Raju and Guest of Honour by Mrs T.Sujatha. Prayer song is sung by Ms Kamalanjali, Ms Pratyusha, Ms Suma and anchoring and agenda formulation is done by Mrs B.Renuka and Dr.Sujatha concluded the memorable day with Vote of Thanks.

The Department of Basic Sciences & Humanities conducted a Brainstorming session for faculty on “Raman Effect” as a part of National Science Day on 28th February 2020 to mark the discovery of the Raman Effect by Indian physicist Sir C. V. Raman.

Sir C.V.Raman discovered Raman Effect in the year 1928 while working in the laboratories of Indian association for Cultivation of Science, Calcutta. This discovery of his has helped in getting the prestigious worldwide highest honor of Nobel Prize in Physics in the year 1930.

Every year the nation celebrates National Science Day on 28th February to mark this milestone achievement of Raman by encouraging the faculty and students with awards and recognition at the state and national levels and his contributions to the field of science.

Principal Dr. Challa Narsimham garlanded the portrait of Sir C.V. Raman and paid rich tributes to the first Indian Nobel laureate in Sciences.

Student Chair for the National science day celebrations of the institute Ms Amrutha Varshini spoke about the need to celebrate the science day year to help the student fraternity to come up with innovative ideologies to help in making the world a better place to live

HOD of BS&H Department Dr Ch. Prabhakar Rao in his address expressed the importance of science in day-to-day life and urged the students and faculty to work on developing new technologies for the betterment of the world.

Student speakers talked about how science has revolutionized human life and the two sides of it and promised that they would work on progressive side of it.

Faculty participation in Brainstorming session on Raman Effect:

Faculty showing the importance of science in our daily life. This Raman spectroscopy is used to detect various substances. Today it is used in everything from quality control in the pharmaceutical industry (examining active pharmaceutical ingredients in drugs) to medical diagnostics like understanding the composition of tumors in cancer patients. It is also useful in Geology and Mineralogy, Cosmetics, Carbon Materials, Semiconductors, Life Sciences etc.

Day-5 -09/12/2016

Dimensioning, hatching, create blocks & title Bar

On Fifth day of Training Programme, Mr. Lakshmi Narayana, Associate professor Department of civil, DIET, Anakapalle was given warm welcome by one of the faculty. His topic was “Smart Dimensions, Fully Define Sketch and Blocks”. He said Smart dimensioning allows you to place lengths, circular radii and diameters, arc radii and arc lengths without switching dimension tools. Smart dimensioning automatically creates appropriate dimension notes based on the types of objects you.

A block is essentially a block definition that includes the block name, the block geometry, the location of the base point to be used for aligning the block when you insert it, and any associated attribute data. You can define a block from drawing geometry either in the Block Definition dialog box or by using the Block Editor. Once the block definition is created, you can reference it in the same or a different drawing.

The block definition in the following illustration comprises a name, four lines, and a base point at the intersection of the two diagonal lines. In this (and in the second example), when the block is saved, the geometry is removed from the drawing area.

Inauguration:

The inauguration of the PDP was done in the Seminar Hall 1(A/C), DIET Campus on 26-09-2016 at 9.30 AM with lightening of the lamp. The dignitaries of the inaugural Function include Sri Dadi Ratnakar, Secretary and Correspondent, Dr.Ch.Prabhakar Rao, In-charge Principal. HoD's of all the departments were also present, 40 faculty participants from various departments have participated in the inaugural function.

In the Day 1 & Day 2 PDP the speaker delivered that helps IT infrastructure services to businesses in the form of web services -- now commonly known as cloud computing. One of the key benefits of cloud computing is the opportunity to replace up-front capital infrastructure expenses with low variable costs that scale with your business. With the Cloud, businesses no longer need to plan for and procure servers and other IT infrastructure weeks or months in advance.

In the Day 3 PDP the speaker discussed about Amazon Web Services provides a highly reliable, scalable, low-cost infrastructure platform in the cloud that powers hundreds of thousands of businesses in 190 countries around the world.

In the Day 4 PDP the speaker discussed about AWS offering low, pay-as-you-go pricing with no up-front expenses or long-term commitments. We are able to build and manage a global infrastructure at scale, and pass the cost saving benefits onto you in the form of lower prices.

Report on A Six-Day Workshop on Mentor Graphics

About Workshop:

In its pursuit of excellence in technical education Dadi Institute of Engineering & Technology, Visakhapatnam in association with IETE organized a Six-Day workshop for the IVth & IIIrd Year B Tech ECE Students of Department of Electronics & Communication Engineering on MENTOR GRAPHICS TOOL During 18th - 23rd JUNE 2018. Trainers from Trident Tech Labs have been invited and delivered special lectures and demonstrations. In addition to giving exposure to recent topics of designing VLSI circuits for Analog Signal Circuits, Mixed Signal Circuits, Digital circuits using EDA tool like Mentor Graphics.

This workshop aims to enhance and strengthen the skills among the students in Full-Custom design methodology using Mentor Graphics. The students are able to learn basic knowledge on layouts design and simulation. As we all know that VLSI is the latest technology which is on full demand and there is a lot of study work and project works are going on this concept. Our students have a good scope of doing their research and development activities in the area of VLSI Design and related applications. Therefore solutions for many real world problems will be attempted in an efficient way using the Mentor Graphics EDA tools.

A Report on Six Day National Workshop on NI Lab VIEW – Engineering and Technology Practices

IMPORTANCE OF LABVIEW:

NI Lab VIEW software is used for a wide variety of applications and industries, which can make it challenging to answer the question: “What is Lab VIEW?” we have heard many conflicting opinions and debates over the years, so it would be appropriate to take this opportunity to discuss what Lab VIEW is. Lab VIEW is a highly productive development environment for creating custom applications that interact with real-world data or signals in fields such as science and engineering.

The net result of using a tool such as Lab VIEW is that higher quality projects can be completed in less time with fewer people involved.

So productivity is the key benefit, but that is a broad and general statement. To understand what this really means, consider the reasons that have attracted engineers and scientists to the product since 1986. At the end of the day, engineers and scientists have a job to do – they have to get something done, they have to show the results of what they did, and they need tools that help them do that. Across different industries, the tools and components they need to succeed vary widely, and it can be a daunting challenge to find and use all these disparate items together. Lab VIEW is unique because it makes this wide variety of tools available in a single environment, ensuring that compatibility is as simple as drawing wires between functions.

ABOUT IEEE:

This workshop was conducted under the IEEE professional body. IEEE is the world's largest technical professional organization dedicated to advancing technology for the benefit of humanity. IEEE and its members inspire a global community to innovate for a better tomorrow through its highly cited publications, conferences, technology standards, and professional and educational activities. IEEE is the trusted “voice” for engineering, computing, and technology information around the globe. There are more than 420,000 IEEE members in over 160 countries. IEEE publishes a third of the world’s technical literature in electrical engineering, computer science, and electronics and is a leading developer of international standards that underpin many of today's telecommunications, information technology, and power-generation products and services.

RESOURCE PERSONS:

National Instruments provided us three well experienced resource persons namely:

- (i) Mr. D.ManojRaj
- (ii) A.Prashanth and
- (iii) Satish Kumar.

They have made participants comfortable in understanding the concepts, created a workbench to work on various applications, covered vast syllabus in limited time and also guided to attend various levels of exams to be conducted on this new technology called lab view by providing efficient material.

About the workshop:

Department of ECE and EEE in association with DIET IEEE student branch have organised this six-day national workshop “NI Lab VIEW – Engineering and Technology Practices” from Fourth July 2016 to Ninth July 2016.
