

A report on Git and GitHub workshop

TITLE: Git and GitHub workshop.

DESCRIPTION:

A workshop on Git & GitHub was conducted to introduce students to version control and collaborative software development. Participants learned Git fundamentals, repository management, branching, commits, pull requests, and industry-standard workflows through hands-on practice. The session strengthened their coding collaboration skills and provided practical exposure to tools widely used in software development and open-source projects.

POSTER:

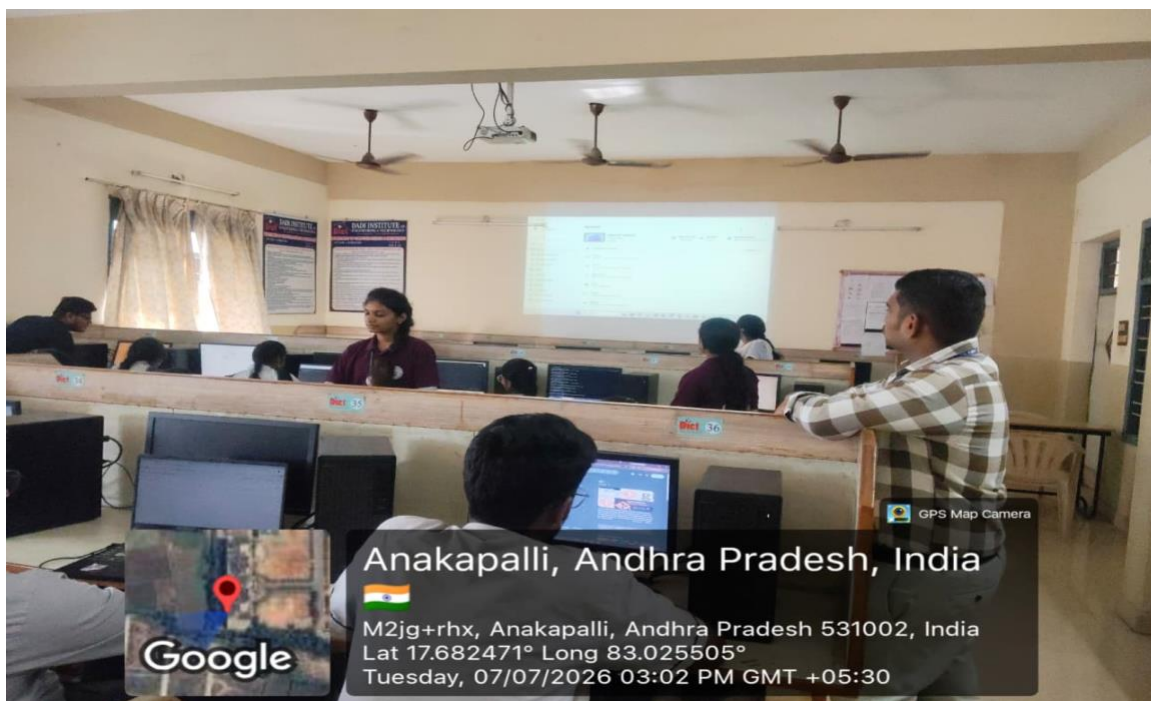

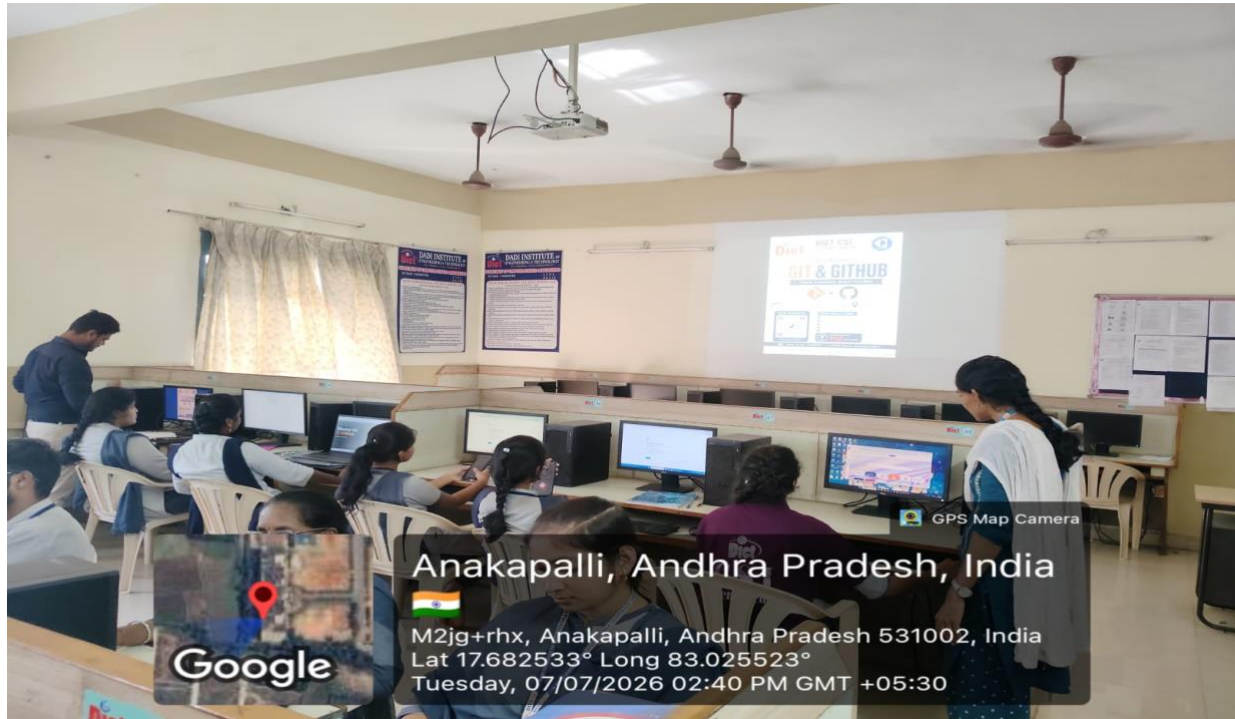

The poster is for a "Workshop on GIT & GITHUB" presented by the "DIET CSI STUDENT CHAPTER". It features the Diet logo (Build New World) and the Computer Society of India logo (ESTD. 1965). The tagline is "TRACK CHANGES. BUILD FUTURES." Below this, it shows the Git and GitHub logos with a multiplication sign between them. The event details are: DATE: 7TH JULY, 2026 (TUESDAY), TIME: 2:00 PM - 4:00 PM, and VENUE: DADI INSTITUTE OF ENGINEERING & TECHNOLOGY (AN AUTONOMOUS INSTITUTE). A QR code is provided for registration, with a "REGISTER NOW!" button below it. A list of topics to be learned includes: Introduction to Git & GitHub, Repositories, Commits & Branching, Collaboration & Pull Requests, Real-world Git & GitHub Workflow, and Hands-on Session & Best Practices. The workshop fee is ₹50 PER HEAD. At the bottom, it states "OPEN TO ALL STUDENTS" and "LIMITED SEATS - REGISTER EARLY!". The footer includes the organizer "DIET CSI STUDENT CHAPTER" (Dadi Institute of Engineering & Technology, An Autonomous Institute), contact information "FOR QUERIES, CONTACT: 9704710470, diet.csi", and the motto "JOIN. LEARN. COMMIT TO GROWTH."

FEEDBACK:

The Git & GitHub Workshop received an enthusiastic response from the participants. Students appreciated the well-structured sessions, practical demonstrations, and hands-on activities that made it easy to understand the concepts of version control and collaborative development. The workshop helped participants gain confidence in using Git commands, managing repositories, creating branches, and working with pull requests. The interactive approach of the resource persons and the real-world examples made the learning experience engaging and effective. Overall, the participants found the workshop highly informative and valuable for enhancing their technical skills and preparing for software development projects and open-source contributions.

CONCLUSION:

The Git & GitHub Workshop was successfully conducted and achieved its objective of introducing students to version control and collaborative software development. The session provided participants with both theoretical knowledge and practical experience in using Git and GitHub for managing projects efficiently. Students actively participated in the hands-on activities and gained confidence in applying industry-standard development workflows. Overall, the workshop proved to be an enriching learning experience, enhancing participants' technical skills and encouraging them to adopt Git and GitHub in their academic and professional projects.
